There are times when I think
Of what we've had
Silly faces I made when you felt bad
Going to bed, I would whisper that I'll never leave your side
Laying back on the couch when we got home
Turning on our favorite TV show
Now I'm sitting alone
Cause you've walked out of my life

And now that you're gone
Think that you ain't never coming back
This is o-o-over
A flash and you're gone

I think that you're gone
Think that you ain't never coming back
This is o-o-over
A flash and you're gone

What went wrong I don't know
But it's too bad
It's too late now to think of what we had
I should have pay more attention
To the secrets you told me

Looking back while you were walking out the door
To see your beautiful face once more
To let me know now
What I'll be missing tomorrow

And now that you're gone
Think that you ain't never coming back
This is o-o-over
A flash and you're gone

Baby now I know what I felt for you

I guess it's true what they say about the things you lose
And now I'm begging please,
Right here on my knees
Don't go!

Baby now I know what I felt for you
I guess it's true what they say about the things you lose
And now I'm begging please,
Right here on my knees
Don't go!

And now that you're gone
Think that you ain't never coming back
This is o-o-over
A flash and you're gone

I think that you're gone
I think it's over, girl
A flash and you're gone

I think that it's over
