COUNTRY GIRL
WRITER ROY DRUSKY

I met you my country girl you didn't have a thing
I fell in love I dressed you up, then I bought the ring
I was teaching you to love, you were leaning fine Then one day you learned too much and it poisoned your sweet mind
Now you've gone and left me you're with somebody
But I wonder if you told him I bought the clothes on you When you two are dancin' and you whisper soft and sweet
I wonder if you'll tell him I bought the shoes on your feet
When you two are dancin' and you whisper soft and
sweet
I wonder if you'll tell him I bought the shoes on your feet
