You are beside me you always find me in a scalding sea
You are the wind that will not fill the sails of jealousy
And you are beside me I cannot hide you for I cannot leave
And you won't retract the song that this soul has just sung to me

I'm feeling higher than I ever thought I could be
For you have shown me that you are only here eternally
I'm feeling higher than I ever thought I could be
For you have shown me that you are only here eternally

They are beside us they do not want for us to hideaway
And yet they hide from the radiant side of the dawning day
They are beside us they are not taking us from even tide
We will ascend when we can bend with space and time

And I'm feeling higher than I ever thought I could be
For you have shown me that you are only here eternally
I'm feeling higher than I ever thought I could be
For you have shown me that you are only here eternally

I'm feeling higher (Higher, higher) than I ever thought I could be
For you have shown me that you are only here eternally I'm feeling higher (Higher, higher) than I ever thought I could be
For you have shown me that you are only here eternally

I'm feeling higher (Higher, higher, ever thought I could be, eternally)
