Well you don't care how I hurt
You don't care how I've cried You gotta learn you can't do me this way and get by with it

Well I don't know, I don't know why But everything you tell me is a lie You gotta learn you can't do me this way and get by
with it

Well it seemed at first my thirst for love
Was satisfied by your sweet charms
But now and then you'd lend yourself to someone else's arms
If you can't treat me right well at least won't you give me a try
You gotta learn you can't do me this way and get by
with it

Well it seemed at first my thirst for love
Was satisfied by your sweet charms
else's arms
If you can't treat me right well at least won't you give me a try
You gotta learn you can't do me this way and get by
with it
