I know how it feels to be alive with no desire to live
I know how it feels to die inside to try hard to forgive
And my way of finding out is on the day you let me down
In this world so full of love and not enough to go around
I was once so proud to have your love that I could taste with pride
But that sunshine turned to storm now that's all I feel inside
It's enough to make me wish that I could had and not be found
From this world so full of love and not enough to go
[ steel - fiddle ]
I could sit for days and wonder and not find the answer still
By the time I die I wonder if by then I even will
