Distraction is a gift
A privilege overlooked
I wish I had one now
To take my mind away
To bury everything
To start a brand new day Blow kisses to the nay-sayers as we pass them by chorus green-eyed and headstrong they hear what they Choose to, green eyed and headstrong they hear what the Choose
Distraction is a gift
A privilege overlooked
I wish I had one now
To take me somewhere else
To hide under the bed
To waste my time and yours
Blow kisses to the nay-sayers as we pass them by chorus green-eyed and headstrong they hear what
Choose to, green-eyed and headstrong they hear what
they
Choose
No attention span is what I wish I had What I wish I had is no attention span
