"Bring The Troops Back Home"

When I come home, my love is too far, to know.
When I realize what I've done.
Then I wish I did some, things that I haven't done.
Like bring the troops back home, tonight.

Bring the troops back home tonight (x2)

When I come home after dark I wish I could,
Be the one to still think I'm here.
Brother to brother, man for man.
Brother to brother, man for man.
And when I realize what I've done with my life,
I've seen everything that I will experience in my later life.
I said,

Bring the troops back home tonight (x2)

Bring them home, cold and tired!
I like to rest my feet by the fire!
Here I go, on my own,
Here I go, on my own!

(Aidan Charlton Guitar Solo)

Bring the troops back home.
We miss you guys.
