I beehive that we must compromise,
Learn our lessons from the past.
While we argue would fight, peace can never last.
As the world goes around, there are more of us we need.
Yet we'll don't feel Shane
When we use our guns to kill and mean,
Oh it's a hopeless game.

Give us power to gather a great force to gather,
A force from the nations of man.
Let that force that we gather have power to enter
And make people talk while they can.
And if all of the people agree
And if all of the fighting could justice to be.
Then we may have the chance
While we still have the time to be sure,
We would make war no more.

I believe with every passing day
The goal is harder took issue.
I think now is the time it's long overdue.
There are nations in flames - there are people torn apart.
Before it's beyond control we have to make a start.
So listen with your heart.

Give us power to gather a great force to gather,
A force from the nations of man.
Let that force that we gather have power to enter
And make people talk while they can.
And if all of the people agree
And if all of the fighting could justice to be.
Then we may have the chance
While we still have the time to be sure,
We would make war no more.

Then we may have the chance
While we still have the time to be sure,
We would make war no more.
