Wait there, just enough to see you smile.
I mixed up the distance of the miracle mile.

You could never publish my love
You could never publish my love
You could never publish my love
You could never publish my love

Just stand there, you could never make me go through it.
The congas, they're bleeding through the battle of ???

You could never publish my love
You could never publish my love
You could never publish my love
You could never publish my love

Whip me, but don't beat me.
The cat cat call
The cat cat call
You never left
The sun beats down upon the brain of confusion
My house is much better if the roof is connected.

You could never publish my love
You could never publish my love
You could never publish my love
You could never publish my love

Whip me, but don't beat me.
Yeah, the cat cat call
The cat cat call
You never left.
The cat cat call
The cat cat call
The cat cat call
