More and more
Much bigger and bigger
Modern capitalism pushes and gives nothing but desire
Less and less, much smaller and smaller
Nature loses what it had and I will be on the way
To collapse and I'll be realized
I am nothing but a part
Just one part nothing more than that

Egotistic and weak
Fragment of creation
Egotistic and weak
Fragment of creation
Egotistic and weak
That's what I am

Stop to start
Break to build
Walk to run, I have to slow down now I have to look back
How do I say no?
To the modern technology

How do I learn to say good bye?
How do I take another look?
I don't know but I will try
I will try to go back

Affluent society now only be materialized
On a sacrifice of so many lives
How long? how much more?
How do I deal and control myself?

How do I learn to say good bye?
How do I take another look?

I don't know but I will try
I will try to go back

Fragment of creation
Egotistic and weak
Fragment of creation

Egotistic and weak
That's what I am...
