Kristina
Look around you
Spring this tear has come so early
Cherry tree and sugar maple,
Buds are sprouting
Sap is flowing Karl Oskar
Yes, Kristina
And it's been a long, dark winter Kristina
Nature wakes up from her sleep
Everything must start afresh
In the still of night
I have heard you sighing
I also have been lonely
Here I am again How the cold wind blows
How the distance grows
When we are apart Karl Oskar & Kristina
Yes the cold wind blows
And the distance grows
When we are apart Karl Oskar
I stretch my arms out in the dark
Imag'ning you're still there beside me
Knowing, too, it must not be Karl Oskar & Kristina Whatever happens we still have each other Together we will always find a way Kristina
Nothing must ever come between us Karl Oskar
You know what the doctor said Kristina
Doctors can be wrong as well
That happens
I'm here for you again Karl Oskar
Doctors must be trusted Kristina
Trust in me today Karl Oskar
I just can't believe it Kristina
Trust the words I say Karl Oskar
They have warned me
"No more children or she'll perish" Kristina
God has seen me through before
He will see me through once more Karl Oskar
Torn apart inside
So Ulrika told me

Kristina & Karl Oskar
How the cold wind blows
How the distance grows
When we are apart Kristina
It is God's wish
And I know it for certain
That we must be together
Who is to say what may happen tomorrow
He does to us what He will Karl Oskar
Won't you listen to reason
Please, let go of me now Kristina
So you would want us to deny
The joy of love, the sweetest joy forsaking
Not to touch, or feel you, as years pass us by How soon they pass! How soon they fly! Both
My heart, my body and my soul
They crave you each and every breath I'm taking Come what storms, my promise will always stay true
That where you go
I go with you
