Johan
Mama, I wanna go home. Aren't we home soon?
Kristina
One day when we were on the ocean
Another ship came sailing by
The Swedish colours fluttered from her stern
The people on her deck
I could see their faces
We sailed in opposite directions
They waved and I felt so alone
How strange when I was leaving all behind me
There were others like me going home Kristina's children
Oh, Mama, Mama, where is home? Kristina
All that I know
Is that there was a place called "home"
Not long ago A place where all is peace and quiet
When we have gone to bed at night
I want to make a home for all of us
Away from crushing crowds
This we owe our children (to Johan)
They say that once we've crossed the grassland
Where bears and prairie creatures roam
The land is rich, we'll find a place to live
That you will learn to love and call your home Children
Oh, Mama, Mama - where is home? Kristina
What can I say? Kristina & children
Somewhere where people dance and sing
Midsummer Day Kristina
Ours is a road that leads away
Never returning Children
Mama, oh, Mama, where is home? Kristina (to Johan)
I thought I knew
Now we must look for answers to your question
For I long for home as much as you
