I feel too hard to find,
that doesn't really matter..
It's not fair that I have fallen To let it all slip away

The signs are all around me
My heart is torn apart
My dreams are slowly fading
I don't know when to start

I've lost myself along the way
and with you by my side, I'm waiting for a sign
and I feel it all just slipping away.
Too much talkin in my head,
for all these moments I've misread,
steal a piece in time instead and I often wonder.. Why?

I wonder Why..

Searching for a promise, that I can't seem to find As darkness closes in it suffocates my mind.

The signs are all around me
My heart is torn apart
My dreams are slowly fading
And I DON'T, know when to start!
(yeah, yea)

I've lost myself along the way
and with you by my side,
and I feel it all just slipping away.

Too much talking in my head,
for all these moments Iâve misread,
steal a piece in time instead
and I often wonder

I know nothing lasts forever,
Itâs our dreams,
that pass us by.
And Iâm still here
searching for answers,
Sick and tired
of living a lie.
So I found myself again,
Frozen in time

I know nothing lasts forever
and so Iâll try.
(And so Iâll try!)

Iâve lost myself along the way
and with you by my side, Iâm waiting for a sign
and I feel it all just slipping away.
Too much talking in my head,
for all these moments Iâve misread,
and I often wonder..

and with you by my side,
and I feel it all just slipping away.
Too much talking in my head,
for all these moments Iâve misread,
and I often wonder..
