If you can't see your blessing
\s not a burden
Talk to me, I've seen your heart of hearts.
I still believe in a world that
\s so uncertain
No one rides for free, down a boulevard of stars
When you want to lay down, hold your head up high
Chorus:
You stand alone like a moonless sky surrounded by the darkness
Lift your eyes and you will rise
Up where the morning sun comes shining through
To show the world the light inside of you.
For what its worth I thought I ought to mention
On God's green earth there's no one else like you
If faith is a river, make yours deep and wide
Chorus
When you want to lay down, hold your head up high
Chorus
To show the world the light inside of you
