The more I try, the more I fall
I finally see the writing on the wall
The problem lives in what I see
A separate Him outside a separate me

In a desert land of double mind
The shadow self is all that I can find
The strength to love just can't be found
A separate mind is striving effort-bound

Gotta see His face in the mirror on the wall
Gotta hear His voice in the depth of my own soul
Get the heart to see and the doing follows through
Love's living through me when I do

I've spent some time in reality
This weakness of the flesh is bound to be
The strength to love is veiled and deep
Until we find the courage to believe

Gotta see His face in the mirror on the wall
Gotta hear His voice in the depth of my own soul
Get the heart to see and the doing follows through
Love's living through me when I do

Gotta see His face in the mirror on the wall
Gotta hear His voice in the depth of my own soul
Get the heart to see and the doing follows through
Love's living through me when I do
Love's living through me when I do
Love's living through me when I do
