From the start I knew you'd end up with him
You always want everything I have
My heart is broken but I won't be a victim
No oh oh
I'll get revenge and make you pay for all this
I'm not just gonna lay down and die
And I'll be laughing when you take your last kiss
Oh oh oh

Time for the consequence you've made your last mistake

There's no time left for forgiving
And the pain you gave me is coming back around
I'll be counting down the days and hours
Until the day when victory is mine
I won't sleep 'til I get my justice

Funny how you think you're so damn clever
You believed it was the perfect crime
You got this far but you shoulda known better
Oh oh oh

It isn't love, it's something else you're after
It's not real, it's just for spite
Either way you're headed for disaster
Oh oh oh

The end of your arrogance you've made your last mistake
