

Kyler England

"You Wait For Rain"

Visit "You Wait For Rain" on MotoLyrics.com

It's more than a crack in the wall
It's a whole lot bigger than we thought, yeah
A hammer and nail won't fix it this time
So bring on the wrecking ball

It's like we've been drifting along
Pretending like nothing's wrong, yeah
We play the game, keep up the charade
But when the river runs dry
We're on different sides

You wait for rain
And I chase the storm
We just don't see it the same way
You say you want change
But you're never sure
We can't go on like this anymore
'Cause at the end of the day
You wait for rain
And I chase the storm

I was never good at standing still
Always got a hunger to fill, yeah
Don't think you ever understood that's who I am
What we gotta face is we're in different places

You wait for rain
And I chase the storm
We just don't see it the same way
You say you want change
But you're never sure
We can't go on like this anymore
'Cause at the end of the day
You wait for rain
And I chase the storm

How'd we ever get so far from where we started from
The hardest thing about this is I still care
You know there's something better for both of us out there

'Cause you wait for rain
And I chase the storm
We just don't see it the same way
You say you want change
But you're never sure
We can't go on like this anymore
'Cause at the end of the day
You wait for rain
At the end of the day
You wait for rain
At the end of the day
You wait for rain
And I chase the storm
I chase the storm
I chase the storm
So bring on the wrecking ball

Visit Kyler England page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.