What can I give you, girl
Something that you've never had Something that'll make you glad...
in your heart.
What can I show you, girl
Something that you've never seen
Yeah, somewhere that you've never been...
never been before.
What can I tell you
Something that you've never heard;
Can I find a special word
To say what I mean.
And, I'm feeling like a million
Sparkling stars;
Floating in the magic of what you are,
'Cause I'm feeling like a million
Sparkling stars;
Floating in the magic of what you are.
What can I give you, girl,
I can give my share of time;
That's the only thing that's mine
To give.
What can I show you, girl,
I can show you all I see
And if you'll believe in me
I won't let you down.
What can I tell you,
I can tell you anything;
But I know I'd rather sing
Rather sing the song.
And, I'm feeling like a million
Sparkling stars;
Floating in the magic of what you are,
'Cause I'm feeling like a million
Sparkling stars;
Floating in the magic of what you are.
