(Craig Wiseman/David Gibson)

I've worn a lot of good leather out
Walkin' the floor over you
I've been down some white lines
Crossed over state lines
Thinkin' I might find somebody new
But with every step I've taken
I haven't shakened
That sweet memory of you
And as long as there's traces
I'll tie up the laces of my old heartbreak shoes

These heartbreak shoes can't walk away my blues
As long as they keep running back to you
And I know by the day that my days are through
I've walked a million miles in these heartbreak shoes

I've walked out on more good love
With you in the back of my mind
I've broken some true hearts
Playing the fools heart of one who could never resign
Herself to the fact that you've covered your tracks
That lead me back to you
And as long as I'm pineing
I'll keep on shining up these old heartbreak shoes

These heartbreak shoes can't walk away my blues
As long as they keep running back to you
And I know by the day that my days are through
I've walked a million miles in these heartbreak shoes

These heartbreak shoes can't walk away my blues
As long as they keep running back to you
And I know by the day that my days are through
I've walked a million miles in these heartbreak shoes
I've walked a million miles in these heartbreak shoes
