You'll see that I'm no Einstein
I'm more of the ordinary kind
But I know a thing or two
Well, I don't want to brag to you

But I was pretty good in school
I had my own IQ
Still I got so many questions
The answers that I just can't find

Why do we smile and never let the hurt inside us show?
I don't know
Why do we have to hide the tears and let them walk away?
I can't say

I know a little about this
I know a little about that
Know a little 'bout so many things, y'all
But when it comes to love
I don't know nothin' at all

I had a rendezvous with fate
I didn't wait to graduate
I had some things to do
I've studied life on my own

I've seen it all right up close
I've a learned a lot it's true
Still one part's always a puzzle
I guess I'll never understand

Why do we smile and never let the hurt inside us show
I don't know
Why do we have to hide the tears and let them walk
I can't say

I know a little about this
I know a little about that
Know a little 'bout so many things, y'all
But when it comes to love

I don't know nothin' at all

Yeah, I know a little about this
I know a little about that
Know a little 'bout so many things, yeah
When it comes to love
Don't know nothin'

When it comes to love
Don't know nothin' at all
When it comes to love
I don't know nothin' at all
