

Ronna Reeves

"What If You're Wrong"

Visit "What If You're Wrong" on MotoLyrics.com

If you think the magic is gone
Then I agree maybe
You should move on

If you're sure that your love for me has really died
If there's something still missing for you
Then there's nothing more I know to do

So I'll have to go along with whatever you decide
But what if you're wrong then after you're gone
You realize right here is where you belong

And though in your mind you think
That I'm not the right one
But what if you're wrong

At the thought it would do any good
God knows, I'd do all that I could
To convince you we're worth one more try
Before you let it end

Right now, I don't see any way
But I could find someone else someday
Just when your heart
Leads you back to me again

So what if you're wrong
Then after you're gone
You realize right here is where you belong

And though in your mind you think
That I'm not the right one
But what if you're wrong

And though in your mind you think
That I'm not the right one
But what if you're wrong

Visit Ronna Reeves page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.

