''Run To Me''

Baby, you've been here a thousand times
And I know it hurts like hell tonight
And I won't pretend to know the place you're in

Oh, you've got that weight strapped to your back
And it kills me that you deal with that
But I've told you once, I'll tell you once again

Let it go, let it go
Let it lie, let it be
Yeah, all that stuff it won't let you be free
'Cause it ties you up, tears you down
Won't let you get off the ground
Let it go, let it go, let it be
Run to me

Let me take you someplace far away
To the Georgia coast or to L.A.
You can leave that broken heart right where it is

Oh, and leave all those regrets behind
Baby, pack your suitcase but pack it light
'Cause this is gonna be the day that you begin

To let it go, let it go
Let it lie, let it be
Yeah, all that stuff it won't let you be free
'Cause it ties you up, tears you down
Won't let you get off the ground
Let it go, let it go, let it be
Run to me

Oh, and I don't care what road you've been down
'Cause that don't matter now
Yeah, and I don't care who you were before
'Cause that don't matter now

Let it go, let it go, let it be
Let it go, let it go, let it be

'Cause it ties you up, tears you down

Won't let you get off the ground
Let it go, let it go, let it be
Run to me
