Come to the river
Play in the water
And drink on forever
And be free

There's rest for the weary
And relief for the hurried
So come to the river
And be healed

How beautiful, the water's blue
As you let them rush over you
Say goodbye to everything
That silence the songs you love to sing
In the river, come to the river
The river of peace

Come to this river
And join in the laughter
And dream of whatever, whatever makes you smile
Won't you come and stay a while?

How beautiful, the water's blue
As you let them rush over you
Say goodbye to everything
That silence the songs you love to sing
In the river, come to the river

How beautiful, the water's blue
As you let them rush over you
Say goodbye to everything
That silence the songs you love to sing
In the river, come to the river
The river of peace
