You're accusing me of taking you for granted
But that's one habit I'll never fall into
And I hate to believe that you could ever think that way of me
Cause honey, it's just not true.

But if I sometimes neglect to tell you often enough
How much you mean to me
Well, honey, it's just that I love you so much
My heart could almost burst.

'Cause the feeling is just too big for words
I know sometimes you think that I'm cold-hearted
'Cause I don't show my love like others do
But the emotion I feel is so very real, it chokes me up inside.

'Cause God only made one like you
I can't begin to count the times I've thought how lucky I am
You'll never know how much I care
'Cause honey, it's just that I love you so much.

At times it almost hurts
And the feelin' is just too big for words
Honey, it's just that I love you so much
My heart could almost burst.

'Cause the feelin' is just too big for words...
