(Dougal Trineer)

The eyes I'm lookin' in ain't lookin' back at me
The lips I'm kissin' on ain't kissin' back at me
And it ain't very hard to seek your love for me is dyin'
And you're drivin' me out of your mind.

Well, a smile you used to wear ain't in the right place
There's a far away someone else look all over your face
And any fool as big as me can plainly read the signs
That you're drivin' me out of your mind.

My tears started falling when I saw leaving on your face
You looked up at the ceiling turned around and walked away
You don't have to draw me a picture 'cause honey, I
ain't blind
Yes, you're drivin' me out of your mind.

--- Instrumental ---

You don't have to draw me a picture 'cause honey, I
ain't blind
Yes, you're drivin' me out of your mind.

Yes, you're drivin' me out of your mind...
