

Ron Pope

"Goodbye, Goodnight"

Visit "Goodbye, Goodnight" on MotoLyrics.com

I will wait for you until the light
If you do not come I will be fine
When the morning rises I will go so I don't care if you don't come home

But I would drink from your lips like apple wine
You could spend the year or just stay the night
Since nothing I say's of consequence
Please close the door and take off your dress

That's the easy part

I can't finish what we started

You and me never see the light,
No
You and me
We never get this right so goodbye
Goodnight

I will sing out loud so you can hear my voice
Now come in close
You've made your choice
And all the things I wish you'd be wvaporate like whispered dreams

I would trace my name on freckled skin
I'd kiss your neck then start again
I'd apologize for all I've done but I'm still not sure that's what you'd want

That's the easy part

I can't finish what we started

You and me never see the light,
No
You and me
We never get this right so goodbye
Goodnight

The wishes I make won't come true

I'd still love to spend this night with you
Oh
The sheets are soft
The bed is warm
So I'm begging you
Please come back home
I'm begging you to come back home

That's the easy part

I can't finish what we started

You and me never see the light,
No
You and me
We never get this right so goodbye
Goodnight

That's the easy part

I can't finish what we started

You and me never see the light,
No
You and me
We never get this right so goodbye
Goodnight

Visit Ron Pope page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.