Doubts nailing through this heart
When I'm standing at this place
My heart is burning, about this one question
Will I ever climb up, the mountain of sorrow
To release the pain and enjoy my life again
The air is so cold, frost hits my lungs
The road, the road is so long
Desperation's high, but I will Rise up again

This is my only mission, can't break can't take me down
Stand my ground and be ambitious, climbin' higher
This is my only mission, can't break can't take me down
Stand my ground and be ambitious
IÂ´ll be flying higher and higher till I reach the sky

The faith is so far away
My sight was blinded but now I see the light
The light of hope which helps me as a guide

This is my only mission, can't break can't take me down
Stand my ground and be ambitious, climbin' higher
This is my only mission, can't break can't take me down
Stand my ground and be ambitious
IÂ´ll be flying higher and higher till I reach the sky

I'm breaking through, these walls of pain
Just to get back, the joy in my life
Agony will be gone, darkness fades away
Chains of the ice are melting
My goal, taking the fight
Back into light, I've reached the top
