Hum along, if you find it in your heart to try it
And you feel like you're betrayed
Oh, if your presence fell
Then show yourself with confidence
Let it carry you away

You're a little faster than you were before
A little better than you already were
So when the lights go down, don't be shy
Let's give this one last try
This is one from me to you

Sing along, enjoy this drive, while you sit alone
As you find someone to change
Just give this an hour, let it explain itself to you
Don't drive away

You're a little faster than you were before
A little better than you already were
So when the lights go down, don't be shy
Let's give this one last try

And I won't, go on saying this forever
And don't do this, it's ridiculous
And I won't let this go on any further
Let this line win you over

Woah, let this line win you over

Rock and roll girl come outside tonight
And put your arms up in the moonlight
We've been here before, we've been here before

And I won't, go on saying this forever
And don't do this, it's ridiculous
And I won't let this go on any further
Let this line win you over
