Sent out to fight, under the guise of this terror reduction
Lost in the bloodshed
You now revel in power
With this human righteous condition

I want it back, just take me back
To a life without... Conditions
I'm not gonna fight, for your ideals
I'll protect my own... Purpose
My will to live
I'm not gonna die for you to live
This time

You sent them out to die
And line your pockets with their blood
And yet you won't fight
Out in the cold, they're fighting out all alone
They're out in the cold and fighting out all alone

I will fight no more, I won't fight your wars
These objects of desire, through enemy fire
Guilty of an act of atrocity to hold onto your tyrannical rule
Achievement of your power and wealth
But you'll never clean those blood stained hands

Tear it down
Break these walls

I will fight the war, I won't fight your wars
Fight your fucking wars
Objects of desire through enemy fire
Through enemy fucking fire

Enemy fucking fire!

Allied, so just stand your ground
Against the powers that be, this futile war's in vain

This time, you will not fight alone

This time, you will not fight alone
Using the vengeance inside, start fighting the real war
