Up on the balconies of b-movie-flicks we are seeking for sensation and some teenage kicks they call us miserable, they call us punks finally we're lepers we're a bunch of drunks

keep going, little sister whip her slowly and hang on to her lips shake off your bitterness and move your hips due to prozac, she's a light-hearted slut talk about c. r. rogers, never keeps her trap shut

lucid lights from the suburbs up above shiny little girls who are playing rough grotesque creatures, they repeople the streets down by the ruins, that's where we'll meet then you come down, then you're back on earth like the moment your mamma gave birth you lost time, there's no future, nor past there ain't no shadow, you could cast

shiny little girls who are playing rough

keep going
