[Intro: King Los]

Ayo, In this song IÂ'm gonna reference things that happened

More than six years ago in my life

All true things from my past

That I prolly never will forget

Feelings that prolly never go away

King

Welcome to fear

[Verse 1: King Los]

I was taught that the loudest niggas the scarest nigga

The jealous is weak the coward nigga is the stand nigga

This run around with this mug broke when he hardly beef

Til he gets his fuckin mug broke with his coffin leakin

Now your man doing fifty for them bricks he threw

He the quarterback then the lineback get fifty too

But you snitched and moved your way through the summer

Try and steal and play the field dodge the Ray Lewis numbers

That's the way you do your brothers

Your father wasn't around much

He feared being a father cause his father wasn't around plus

If I was him, my fuckin conscious would be killin' me

Niggas love the title but fear the responsibility

Now from lack of a father figure your sister inherited not attracted the smarter nigga

Inspiral circle is known genetic quick sand

You too scared to reverse this pathetic shit man

Lifes a jungle you might as well be a lion in it

You only exist in this world your just dying in it

I'm giving you lessons until the message is clear

Now tell me you feel me like the presence of fear

[Hook: King Los]

Pour me a cup of that shit I know it can take away my fears

And my nigga said
Pass me the lighter my nigga I finna smoke away my
fears
And all of my bitches say
We at the club to find love cause being alone is what we fear
That's when I said
You'll feel alone even when you were around everybody that's there
Cause everybody got fears

[Verse 2: King Los]

What about Davon my nigga remember Davon?
Used to push the Yukon he swear he ballin' like Akon Known for throwing jewelry that fake on Frontin for the bitches like he be gettin his cake on
He fuck with Mimi she fear bein with broke niggas Despite what she hoping, broke aint worse than a broken nigga
That's how you end up with broken hearts
This foul nature the foundation for broken starts
I know you smart enough to know he not a real King
I guess to you the live was closer than the real thing
A real Queen woud move on
But you calm cause he got Yukon'd in that Yukon
In the beginning two people frontin' seem really sweet
They day you break up but be the first time you really meet
Now they straining your relationship it's getting stranger cause
It's two strangers in your relationship
And your patients get tarnished like your jewelry will That's when it all goes bad just like the story will
And it surely will
But you see for yourself
Davon's only fear was the fear of being himself
And Mimi's fear should've been fear of seeing herself
With someone who couldn't see they was in fear of being themself
I'm teaching you lessons until the message is clear
Just tell me you feel me like the presence of fear
