Big sky, open sun, early morning, day begun
Will the end of this work ever come?
Forever my love comes undone
Forever my love comes undone

If I just keep to this travelling way
My heart won't feel the need to stay
And if I keep wishing here for you
My heart will be forever blue
My heart will be forever blue

So I will take my time and see
Know in my mind that you love me
Until you know what you must choose
You're too hard to hold onto
You're too hard to hold onto

When you love, you learn your lessons deep
When it hurts, you've got those tears to weep
What we want most won't come cheap
When you love, you learn your lessons deep

So I will take my time and see
Know in my mind that you love me
Until you know what you must choose
You're too hard to hold onto
You're too hard to hold onto

Big sky, open sun, early morning Edmonton
The clouds and I are soon to be one
Forever my love comes undone
Forever my love comes undone
Forever my love comes undone
Forever my love comes undone
Forever my love comes undone
