I've been waiting to see your car drive up
I've been waiting for you to stop by
I've been hiding while it's raining
Just until it clears
Waiting for my tears to dry

In the pictures, I see people dancing
And you're the one who gave them to me
Now it feels like I've been painted out of the scene
And you're gonna get married

But if you were for me, I'd be sleeping at your house
And if you were for me, there would not be any doubt
That you were for me

Now I can't tell the morning from the afternoon
Or the afternoon from the night
When it's raining, it's painting them all the same colours
Of grey and white

And I don't want things to change
But I feel it happening
You're blurred and out of range
Just like there's heat rising off of everything

Now the moon shines in through my window
And I used to share this with you
And I'm scared of losing the you and me that I know
And I don't know what to do

But if you were for me, then time would still be passing
And if you were me, then I would not be asking if you were for me
If you were for me, if you were for me
