Looking back was a huge mistake,
I will never be a part of your treachery.
Something's wrong with the air we breathe,
choking on this vile stench.

Nothing will ever be the same again
now the tables have turned upside down.

Is this devastation
just so hard to see?
Because it's never ending
Stop pretending.
Is this hope,
or just make believe?
It's never ending/

Put your pride aside just for now,
we fight as one,
we fight as one.

Everything until now has made me what I am today,
with many mistakes behind me, but with very few regrets.
Just another stepping stone, just another chapter in my book,
I will not be silenced, I will not be forgotten.

Losing sight of endless possibilities,
never give up, never give in.
This struggle is now a part of us,
it remains till the very end.

Never give up,
never give in
or never be.
