After the lost sun frozen looks to the calm lake
Before blood on our blades dries we want to break fire
But shit, death is darkness, killing is an annihilate

By Gods scream our hearts will rebelfighting to violence
Before blood on our blades dries we want to break fire
But shit, death is darkness, killing is an annihilate

War is slaughter, war is killing
While kill live, while live kill
War is slaughter, war is killing
While kill live, while live kill

Before red and green open arrive to the rainbow
If bodies die non-stop too, before the honour crushed
Before blood on our blades dries we want to break fire
But shit, death is darkness, killing is an annihilate
War is slaughter, war is killing
While kill live, while live kill
War is slaughter, war is killing
While kill live, while live kill
