#2 Friends and Executioners
dear friend and executioner i fear you're too late note the damage i've already made painfully recalling all the words you never said can't take that feeling much more unless i'm coming up on chemicals and walking on shock corridor

no show no mercy no more is there anything worth dying for you need to learn to forget by remembering a little more so typically destructive and yes your judgment is unqualified i really wish that i could believe you but the truth is never easy to find and even harder to hide
