

Roses Are Red "Silver Linings"

Your intentions wrapped and sealed carefully.
Patiently my eyes will follow line by line.
Paint a picture where you'd rather be tonight.
Honestly it seems we're running out of time.
You know I know.
And I can tell.
Silver linings that you wear so well.
If we knew now what we knew then.
We'd pass regret into the night again.
I can taste it on your lips the way you never needed
this.
Please give me something to forget.
If we knew now what we knew then.
We'd pass regret into the night again.
I told you then.
I'll tell you now.
I'll find a way to make you mine somehow.
