it took a long time, but I'm still not over it so many things in this life, I'm just starting to understand
I look in the mirror, and I am talking back to you and I know you have to get better, for me to do it too no one will ever love me that way again I swear I'll never be that desperate not again do you remember, the last night we were together what you said, when you took my head and you held it on the floor, maybe you were wasted, maybe I let you forget because I couldn't believe what you were doing to me and I still don't believe it now...

I'm terrified of love, but I'm more scared of being left alone,
and I know...

I swear I'll never be that desperate not again don't treat the one you love like a criminal and don't look for me, cause I'll be gone....

I had to find out, I have to do it all by myself cause the one I want to help me can't even get up, so get out, let me go now!!

I swear I'll never be not that desperate again no one will ever touch me that way again I swear I'll never be not that desperate no one, no one will love me, not like I know you did but I swear I'll never be that desperate not again how would you show me you're that one one is the loneliest number and you know I'd love to love you but I ain't the one you'll come home to or run to I'll be on the road, gone before you know all around the world, back again baby you understand, cause this is our time hold me love, hold me tight... one, but so much more one, cause I've been waiting so long for one who'll bring out that heavy heart in me one cause I am alone could you be, could you be the one, the one for me I'm crazy for you baby, could you, could you be...
