"Finish Line"

Go now, go while you can
From the love that's brought you down
Things will soon come around, I swear
And they'll be sorry they let you down

Go now, go while you can
From the life that's brought you down
Things will soon come around, I swear
And you'll have it all figured out

Never really worry for a bit
Sometimes it feels worse than it really is
You may always be changing your mind
Just push hard for the finish line

Sometimes it feels worse than it really is
