Known as "Ice Blood"
The coldness in fire
Solid behaviour and vehement words

The kiss of his sword
Ruled by a desire
Fighting to eternalize his soul

My son, you must fight for that you believe in
Find your honour defending the truth
In the course of life
Choose a world where
You won't lose from yourself

Plundered gold

It doesn't attract him
His deeds enlighten the fame
And the real worth

A tame wind blows
The gray sea comes shining
All the sea runs in the
Seawulf's blood

Father, I'll take our vengeance
Then your ghost will be free to go,
But you'll be still alive,
Cause your soul will stand in my heart and
Into my veins will flow your ice blood
