Too many people looking angry
And they dress to reflect that they're harder than anyone
Harder than anyone
Harder than anyone
Isn't it a hassle to be harder than anyone?

Too many people with their filters
And I've been here every Thursday for the past 5 year
For the past 5 year
The past 5 year
And now they try to tell me I'm not dressed to come in here

Cause I'm looking for something more than What's on offer when they're rolling out at night
I'm looking for something more than
The agitation of the city centre

When did I ask you to sit here?
I don't know who you are, got no energy for listening
Energy for listening
Energy for listening
I want your opinion when I ask you something

Too many people looking restless
And they won't hesitate to start if they think you might be pushing in
I wouldn't try pushing in Wouldn't try pushing in I'm not unreasonable, I'm tired of waiting

Cause I'm looking for something more than
What's on offer when the lights go down at night
I'm looking for something more than
What you offer
What you follow
What you live for

I'm looking for something more than
What's on offer when the lights go down at night

I'm looking for something more than
The agitation of the city centre

Cause I'm looking for something more than
What's on offer when the lights go down at night
I'm looking for something more than
What you offer
What you follow
What you live for

Cause I'm bored with all the corners
I turn the corners
They don't lead to anything
And I'm bored with all the corners
You take the warning
This doesn't lead to anything
