You believe and worship
Something that does not exist
The supernatural events
Were never proven to be true
Never, your future is to be saved
When you make a commitment

You are possessed to be immortal
And your department supports these lies
The immortality of the cheating leaders
Deceives this whole community
Immortal priests make you sacrifice your life

They are part of our nation
In the core of the corporation
Running the boards, giving commands
In the name of the CEO
The immortality of the cheating leaders
Deceives this whole community
