Hear my call, here and everywhere
I'll be walking the streets in despair.
One more fire turns a shade of grey,
One more tear gets lost in the rain.
And I say that I love you, I say that I need you.
Baby I need you, a sign of desire.
No shadow will hold you, no heart will usurp you,
No one will hurt you, no space or no time.
You've got to take your chances on me,
Like the river will lead the water to the sea. Take on me.
Take your chances on me, don't ever let it be.
There's a night, and you close your eyes
Around a dream that shouts like the sun.
Everyone knows it's beautiful.
Tell me why, you won't agree with it, alone?
And I say that I love you, I say that I need you.
Baby I need you, the life's in my heart.
No darkness will get you, no heart will usurp you,
Nothing can hurt you, do you any harm.
You've got to take your chances on me,
Like the river will lead the water to the sea. Take on me.
Take your chances on me, don't walk away from me.
Don't walk away from me.
