Nothing's complete
Before every chain is linked
And your mind wasn't meant
To be sold out in the street

And you are wearing a disguise
It reveals you when you cry
Does it hurt you when you try?
Can I help you? Could I reach you?
Tell me now because we need you too

And don't let worries be
Your walls against your being
And you can climb them
What's beyond is surely worth your seeing

You are wearing a disguise
And it reveals you when you cry
Does it hurt you when you try?
Can I help you? Could I reach you?
Tell me now because we need you too

'Coz you are wearing a disguise
It reveals you when you cry
Does it hurt you when you try?
Can I help you? Could I reach you?
Tell me now because we need you too

I need you too

Every chain is linked, every chain is linked
Tell you now we need you too
Can't you see that we need, need you too
See that we need
