(Verse 1)

A mead notebook and a laptop
We the stars cdr's like crack-rock
See beyond the Republicans and Democrats
As the chair ask the clerk where the minute at
I vision death, asking God to forgive this debt
I hit refresh every sec never miss a step
I intercept all they codes and they strategies
As I pay dues cause the road's a formality Reality sets in, you begin to see
The man that you become and the man that you could be
But I am not present, that's to say the least
So the man in the mirror's like a mannequin to me
I go hammer with no heat, throwback like a banana seats
To make it to the top, a promise I plan to keep Lets get back to the topic
Had a dope plug but I never went to cop it cause it's prophets over profits

And I will never stop it
Through me in the game with stock but no options
And I will never quit
Play the hand dealt, promise to never flip

(Verse 2)

A bad ass chick and a nice car
Money, women, it's what we live our life for Mine's a little different, put the money after wisdom Keep the women, plus some music I could bump up in my system
That's cool with me, let's ride, in life
Never worry where we going just strive aight?
As I adjust my seat and my headrest
I hope you little dudes get the message
Your best bets to play it cool, calm and collective I guess you little dudes got a death wish
In peace but I'm stressing, life's so dramatic Couldn't relay these thoughts with close caption
Hard to express how I'm feeling

But I'm scarred through the flesh and my mind's on a million
You took school off just to grind by your building
We took the roof off just to shine through the ceiling
