[guitar]

I dreamed of a River of Crystal that flows through the garden of Heaven and a brightness that glows
for all the great hosts around the white throne and a kind loving Savior whose love i had known

I dreamed i saw mother so sweet and so fair among the great hosts whose those gathered there her hands seem to beckon to me here below as her tears in the River Of Crystal did flow

[harmonica]

I know i am wicked but how could she know and why should her teardrops in Heaven still flow for one who so thoughtlessly worries her so that her tears in the River Of Crystal should flow

[guitar]

I woke from my dreaming and started to pray that the River Of Crystal be taken away and that God up in Heaven help me to prepare though the River Of Crystal will never flow there
