You're hands are moving closer to the three
I understand why you took your time on me
'Cause you're low, you said that you're scared and you want to
You worry 'bout what you will become
And all the while I think you are the one
Take me home just don't go take me for granted

You said you want me, you could not find me
You took advantage of my love

I pray to God that you've changed, so you can save me
You shook me awake. From when I was asleep
Now I sit here screaming You're all that I need
So come let me hold you cause I won't breathe
'Til you hold me

It takes so much to get me back to
Where I was before
And if I trip you'd catch me where I fall
It drove me wild when you did that thing to me
With your tongue and I felt your hands clenching
We still touch in the back of my mind. I still want you

You said you want me, you could not find me
You took advantage of my love

I pray to God that you've changed, so you can save me
You shook me awake. From when I was asleep
Now I sit here screaming You're all that I need
So come let me hold you cause I won't breathe
'Til you hold me
