"Out in the Rain"

I miss the cold and the taste of gold
You have in your hair and the TV's on
I am so thirsty
I left your grains for a grain of sand
For no better reason, I can't understand
What was I thinking?

I packed up all my stuff with you lying there
In my ignorance, without care
I left you out in the rain

You caught me leaving and your head's not straight
You said you're catching up but I couldn't wait
You always cared about me
And I remembered along the way
Wearing the smiles I put on your face
Why did I leave there?

And now I'm running in my own misery
Because I'm stuck out in all of this rain
Yea, I'm out in the rain

I know you would do almost anything
To rid your mind of memories of me
But I owe this to you
Still I owe this to you
Still I owe this to you
Still I owe this to you
I left you out in the rain
Rain
