When you said I could never trust a man
And so I did and I paid, wish I listened
When you told me be careful who you choose
A lot to lose now I know I wish I listened
I made mistakes in my life, I was not always right
And in their minds I never listened

The more you say, the more I run
Just like a child
The more I played, the more I learned
Just like a child

When you said the battle will take hold
What you say, what you do. But I didn't listen
When you told me they will lead away your mind
My best times I don't remember, I didn't listen
I hate to say you were right, I can't win every fight
I could have died, I wish I listened

The more you say, the more I run
Just like a child
The more I played, the more I learned
Just like a child

When they said my dreams are too damn big for a normal man
Well, I'm glad that I never listened

The more you say, the more I run
Just like a child
The more I played, the more I learned
Just like a child
A child, a child, a child, a child
