"No Tomorrow"

I am keeping what you gave me
Lots of scars from that scenery
Although memories fade
But that won't just disappear
That would need amnesty

Not just chaos what's in the past
Our relation, supposed to last
Just decisions you made
You wanted a restart,
A complete new world, a place

No tomorrow for me without breaking in
Night and day pass me by
I am giving in
Can't get back to the place I am living in
My world is falling apart

So I tried to save what was lost
Tried to save it at any cost
Though time's running away
I keep up the past
To remember and to allay

I start to forget the hope
Force me to face my antipode
It's all dying away
Wherever I'm going
I don't think I will stay

No tomorrow for you without breaking in
Night and day pass you by
You are giving in
Can't get back to the place you were living in
Your world is falling apart

No tomorrow, tomorrow, tomorrow

No tomorrow, tomorrow, tomorrow

No tomorrow for you without breaking in

Night and day pass you by

You are giving in

Can't get back to the place you were living in

Your world is falling apart

Your arms straight

And your face is all dull and blurred

All your shadows are gone

You're just so obscured

Worst is yet to come

This is my own rebirth

Your world is falling apart
